

Rich thinking – Summer update

My 2015 white paper The Future of Women and Finance was released on International Women's Day. Special thanks to Nordnet for hosting a fun and fabulous event in Stockholm on March 6!

I continue to be encouraged by the growing support and enthusiasm for Rich Thinking, which is a testament to the quality of the contributions made by so many smart men and women around the world. Positive messages catch on and "more women = more money" is about as compelling as it gets!

I am proud to hold the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) designation: it is internationally renowned as the 'gold standard' in the investment industry and especially for portfolio managers. So far in 2015 I have presented my research to six different CFA societies: Singapore, Istanbul, Stockholm, Toronto, Luxembourg and Paris. CFA Society Germany is coming up in October.

I have also had the chance to discuss my research for the NASDAQ in Stockholm, FEI (Financial Executives International) in Toronto and JUMP Forum in Paris.

It is a great privilege to share the wisdom of leading thinkers in the world of women and finance. I am committed to continuing this work and interviews are now underway for my next white paper scheduled for release in March 2016.

Please see www.barbarastewart.ca for all media coverage, videos and my columns for the Toronto Sun and 24 Hours.

Happy Summer to All!
