

RICH THINKING

This past March at Toronto's Verity women's club, Barbara Stewart, CFA at Cumberland Private, unveiled her white paper, "How Smart Women are Investing/Spending their Resources in 2013", her third annual report in the Rich Thinking series. To open the celebration, Stewart presented her research findings and then hosted a thought-provoking panel discussion with Sadia Zaman, Director of Original Programming for CBC News and Centres; Jodi Glover, CEO and Co-Founder of Real Tech; and Jennifer Witzel, Vice-President of Global Banking and Markets, Taxation, at Scotiabank. The evening's invitees included guests from Cumberland Private, several members of the Verity club, and a few of the many accomplished women who were interviewed for the research paper.

1. Jodi Glover, CEO and Co-Founder at Real Tech; Barbara Stewart, Portfolio Manager at Cumberland Private; Sadia Zaman, Director of Original Programming for CBC News and Centres; and Jennifer Witzel, Vice-President of Global Banking and Markets, Taxation, at Scotiabank 2. Scott Luik, Portfolio Manager at Cumberland Private 3. Leah Eichler, Founder of rally and Globe and Mail columnist 4. Sukyong Yang, Portfolio Manager, Global Equities, at Cumberland Private; Peter Jackson, Chief Investment Officer and Lead Manager, Canadian Equities, at Cumberland Private; and Alexandra von Schroeter, Head of Strategic Business and Portfolio Manager at Cumberland Private 5. Mary Aitken, Founder and Managing Director of Verity